The SUPER CLASSIC COMBO™ offers unparalleled versatility for carrying a camera!

The SUPER CLASSIC COMBO™ from OP/TECH USA has all you need for converting one system into three completely different carrying options. Why settle for only one style strap when different shooting situations may dictate an alternative option? The SUPER CLASSIC COMBO™ will let you create a neck strap, a wrist strap or a shoulder sling all in one convenient kit. The Uni-Loop™ connectors attach to the camera's strap connection area and allow the gear to switch between strap options in seconds. Never before has it been so convenient to change your shooting style. Be sure to attach the male Uni-Loop™ connector to the right side of the camera. This insures that when you are using the wrist strap option, it will be connected on the grip side (right) of the camera.

The comfortable Super Classic™ neoprene pad features a non-skid surface backing which really grips to the shoulder. The internal control-stretch system combined with a comfort-stretch binding creates a durable strap that offers maximum comfort and support. It can be worn on either the left or right shoulder in the sling configuration.

When using the sling version, the quick adjust feature allows the length to be instantly shortened or lengthened as desired. This is great for hiking through dense brush or navigating large crowds as the camera can be cinched up close to the body for added security. To return the sling to shooting position, simply lift the upper connector with a single finger and pull the camera down. It's that easy!

To convert to a neck strap, detach the sling connectors from both the strap pad and the Uni-Loop™ Connectors on the camera. The System Connectors™ – Extensions (included) are then used to bridge the gap between the strap pad and Uni-Loop™ connectors to create a standard neck/shoulder version. Convenient, quick and easy! Note: one of the System Connectors™ – Extensions can also be used as a safety lanyard for the second attachment point on the camera when using the sling version. There's no end to the versatility!

For situations when a wrist strap is the best choice for shooting, the SLR Wrist Strap™ comes into play. Its soft, durable neoprene pad slips comfortably around the wrist and the security slide keeps it firmly in place. It's the perfect safeguard against accidental dropping or having a camera jostled from your hands.

The SUPER CLASSIC COMBO™ is proudly made in the USA and makes the perfect addition to any photographer's essential gear.
